Interactive Coloring Sheets & Pattern filled

So much more than “just coloring.”

This set of “pop art” coloring sheets features a variety of Summer images and would be a great to use at the end of the school year, during any summer program or would make a nice gift to give to your kids as they leave for summer so they have something fun to color over the break!

As an art teacher, artist, and lover of all things “artsy,” I am a big proponent of “art for art’s sake.” My “pop art” interactive coloring sheets are designed such that they can be used any time in your classroom for the sake of making art.

However, I am a teacher so I understand how hard-pressed classroom teachers are for time. You might not feel like you can give up precious lesson time to let the kids “color.” In that case, I suggest that you can use these interactive sheets as writing prompts for summer or end of the year activities. I have included a few writing prompts for you to use if you’d like plus a blank sheet where you can make up your own.

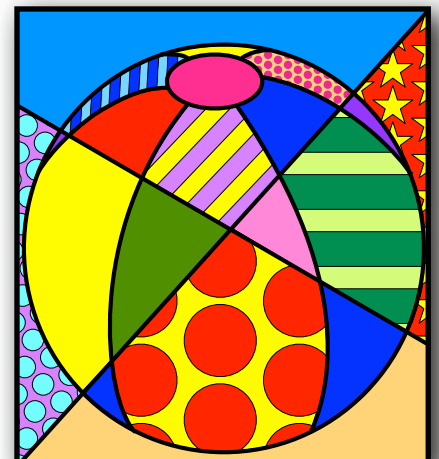

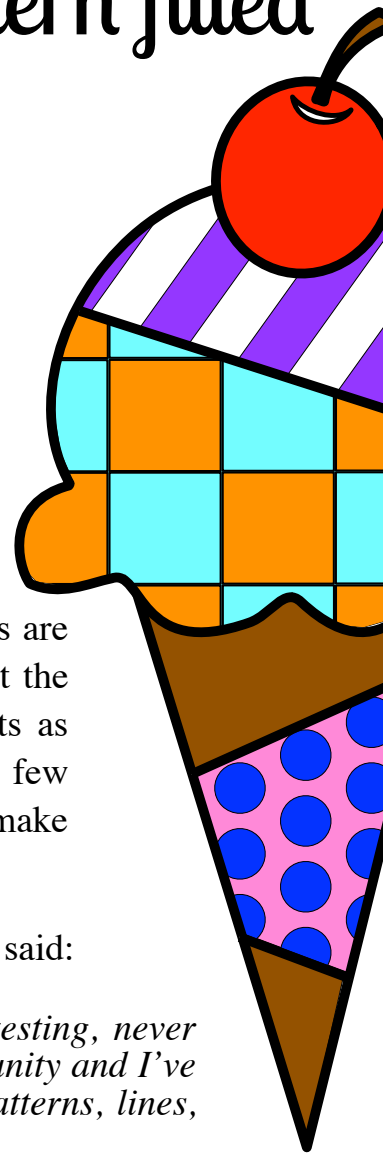

These are not just ordinary coloring sheets. As one of my Instagram followers said:

I found that my 5th/6th graders come to me and because of the focus on testing, never played with color or design or patterns. Your products give them that opportunity and I’ve seen so much improvement in their attention to detail as well as noticing patterns, lines, etc. It’s so much more than “just coloring.” ~E.D.

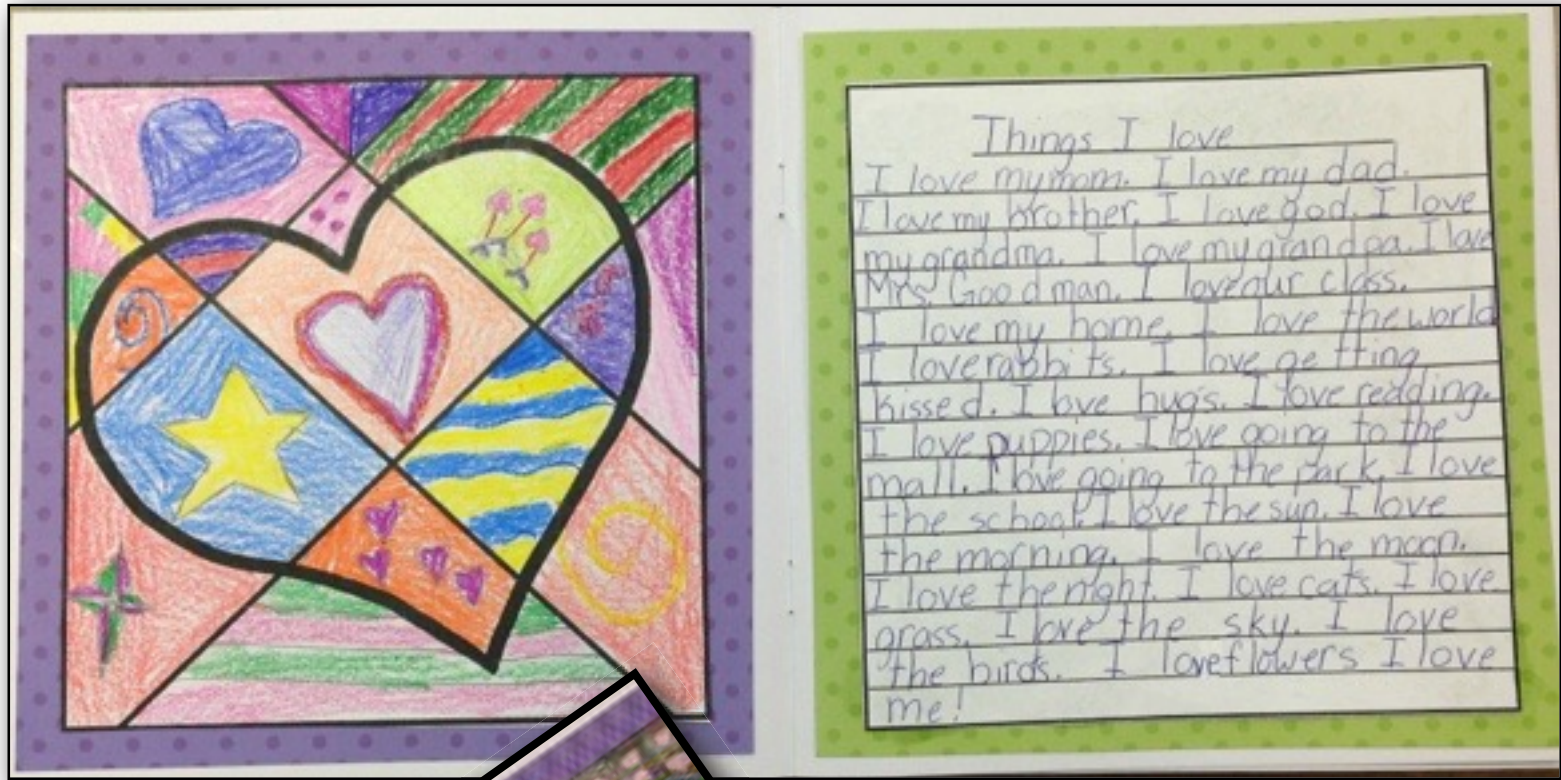

Students spend a lot of thought and consideration when deciding where the patterns will go in each design. Students also have to color small details which improves their fine motor skills which help with many things--handwriting being one example. If your students were to make several of these (along with writings as well) they would have a beautiful portfolio at the end of the year!

This set now includes each design in a pre-pattern filled design as well as the blank, interactive version. This is to allow you some room for flexibility with students that might otherwise struggle to add the patterns themselves. This also makes this product helpful to teachers from grades PreK-6th without having to buy two different products.

Testing is a part of life, as we know. So use these to start the brain in the morning before testing, or use them when students finish early so they have something creative to do after testing. I’ve even had teachers comment that these interactive coloring sheets are great to use with students when one-on-one conferencing is necessary to keep the other students engaged and busy. If you love these sheets you can save big by purchasing a collection of interactive coloring sheets from my TPT store click HERE.

These pictures are from a teacher who is using these coloring sheets as writing prompts for the year. Her students are making a book that will be full of art and writing at the end of the year! What a wonderful treasure this will be for the students, parents and teachers!

POP! ART

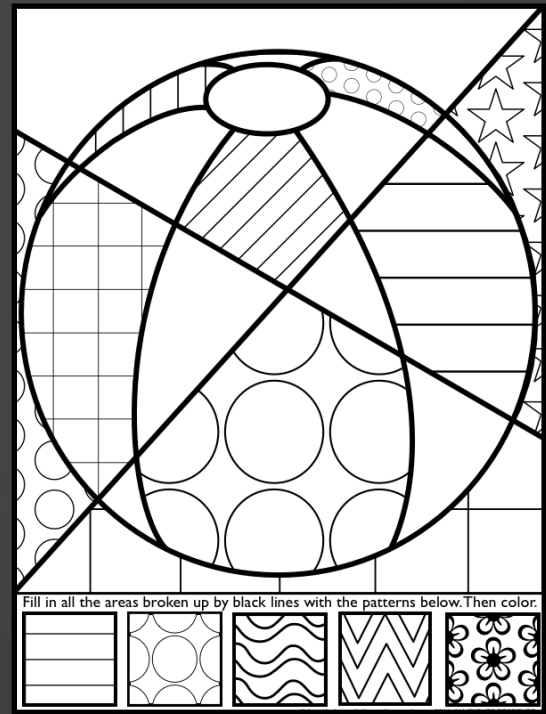

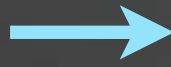

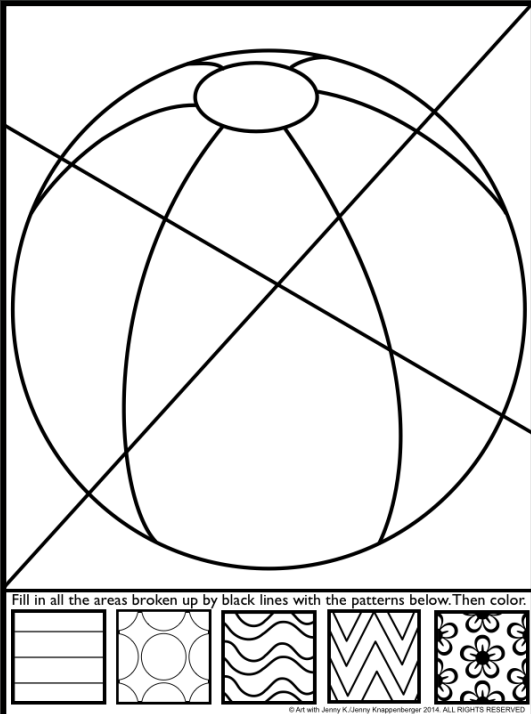

Pop Art is a major art movement of the second half of the 20th century (and continues today) which includes imagery from popular culture, sometimes removed from its typical context, isolated, and/or combined with unrelated material. Pop Art employs aspects of popular culture such as advertising, comic books, and other common objects as opposed to those characteristic of more elitist culture. It is often simple, fun and colorful!

Famous Pop Art artists include Andy Warhol, Roy Lichtenstein, Robert Indiana, Keith Haring, Jasper Johns, and more recently, Romero Britto.

Interactive Coloring Sheets

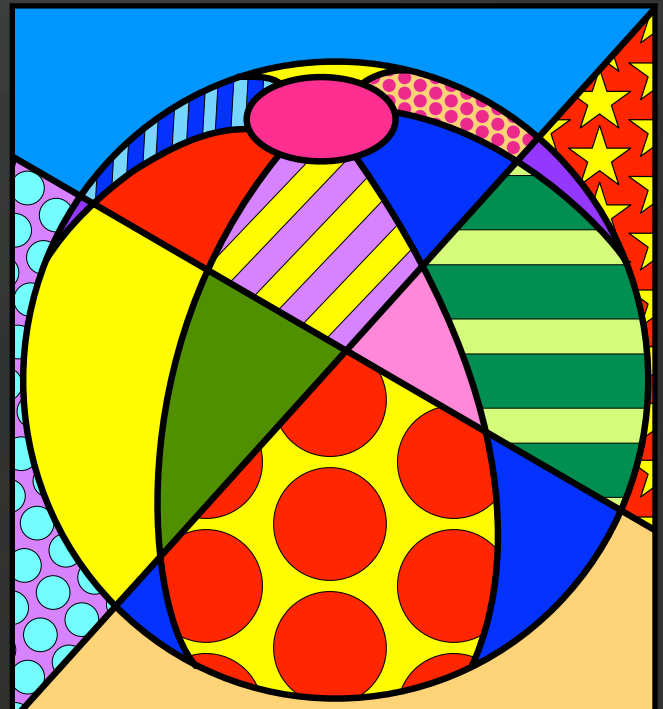

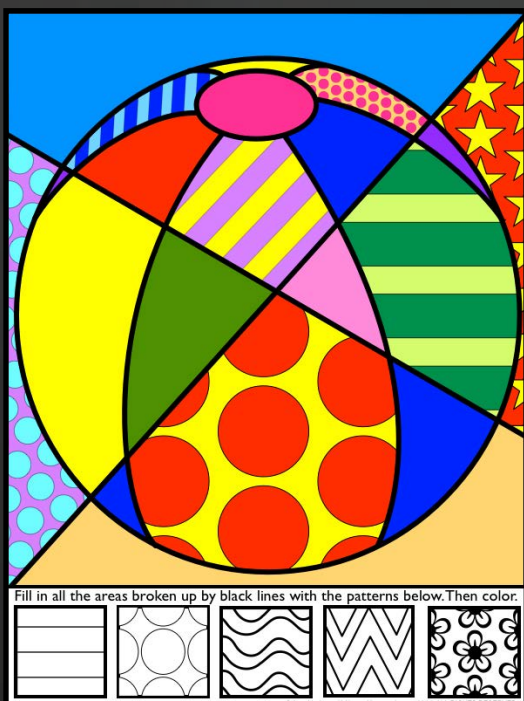

How-To

1. Using the patterns in the five small boxes at the bottom of each page, fill in the different parts of the pictures. Every time you run into a black line you need to change the pattern. You don't have to put patterns in all the areas, you can leave some blank. It's okay to repeat the patterns in different sizes in different areas.

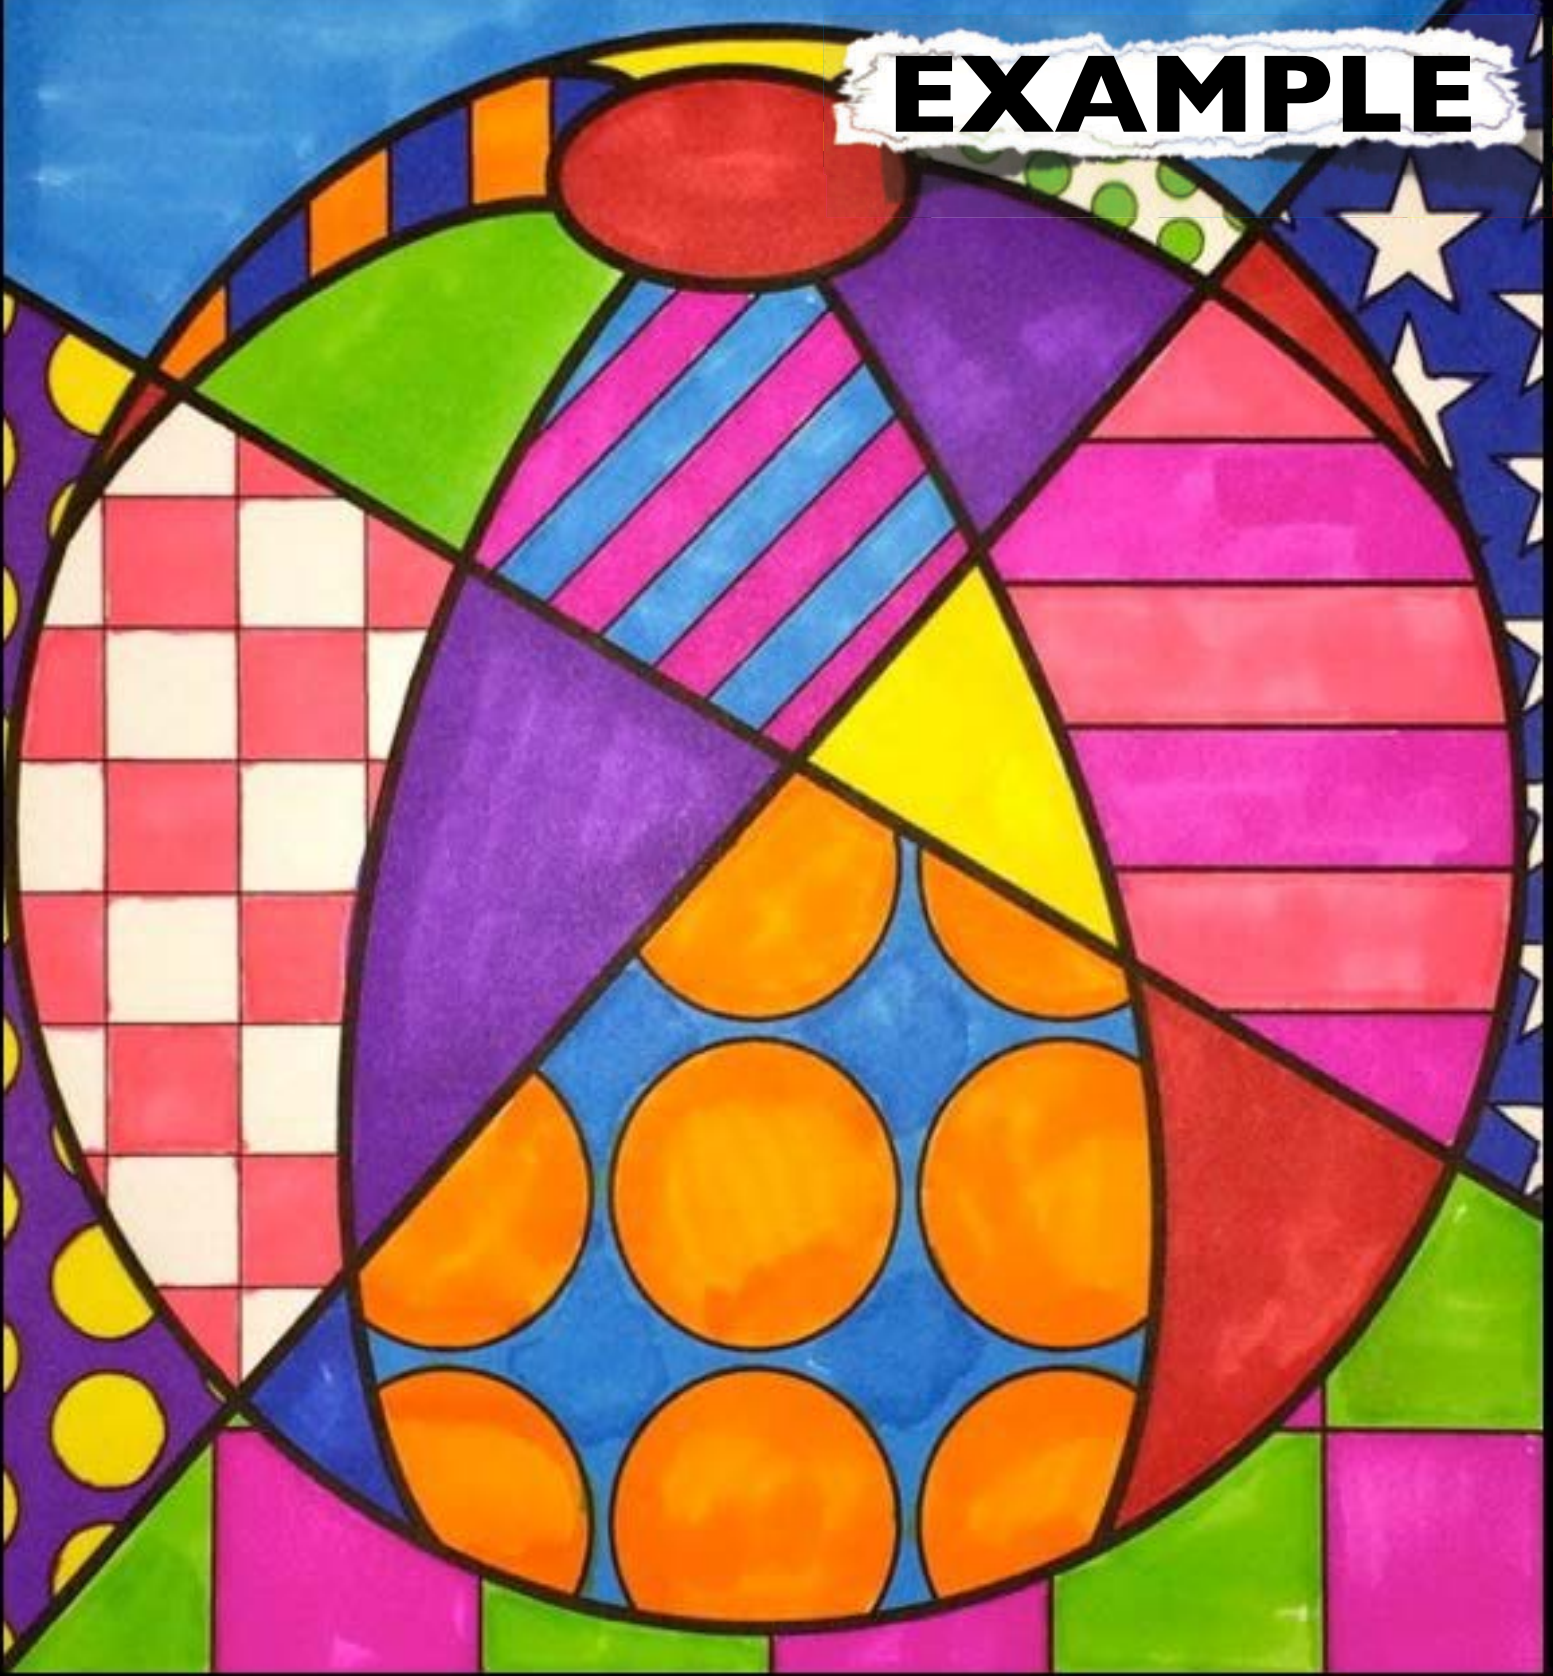

2. Color all the shapes and patterns. Use crayons, colored pencils or markers.

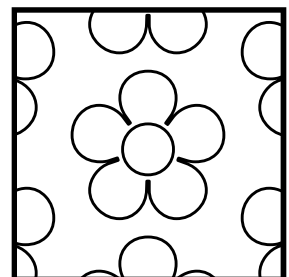

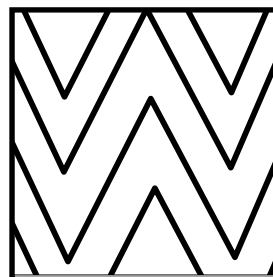

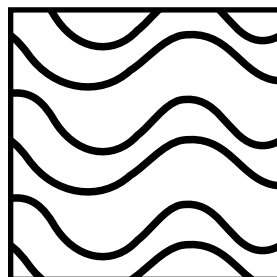

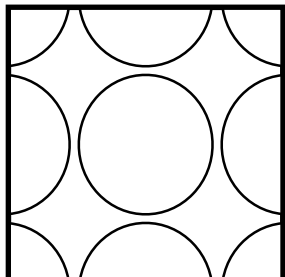

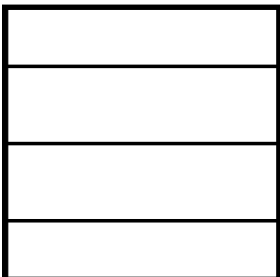

3. Cut out the large rectangle at the top with the finished work. Display for all to see!

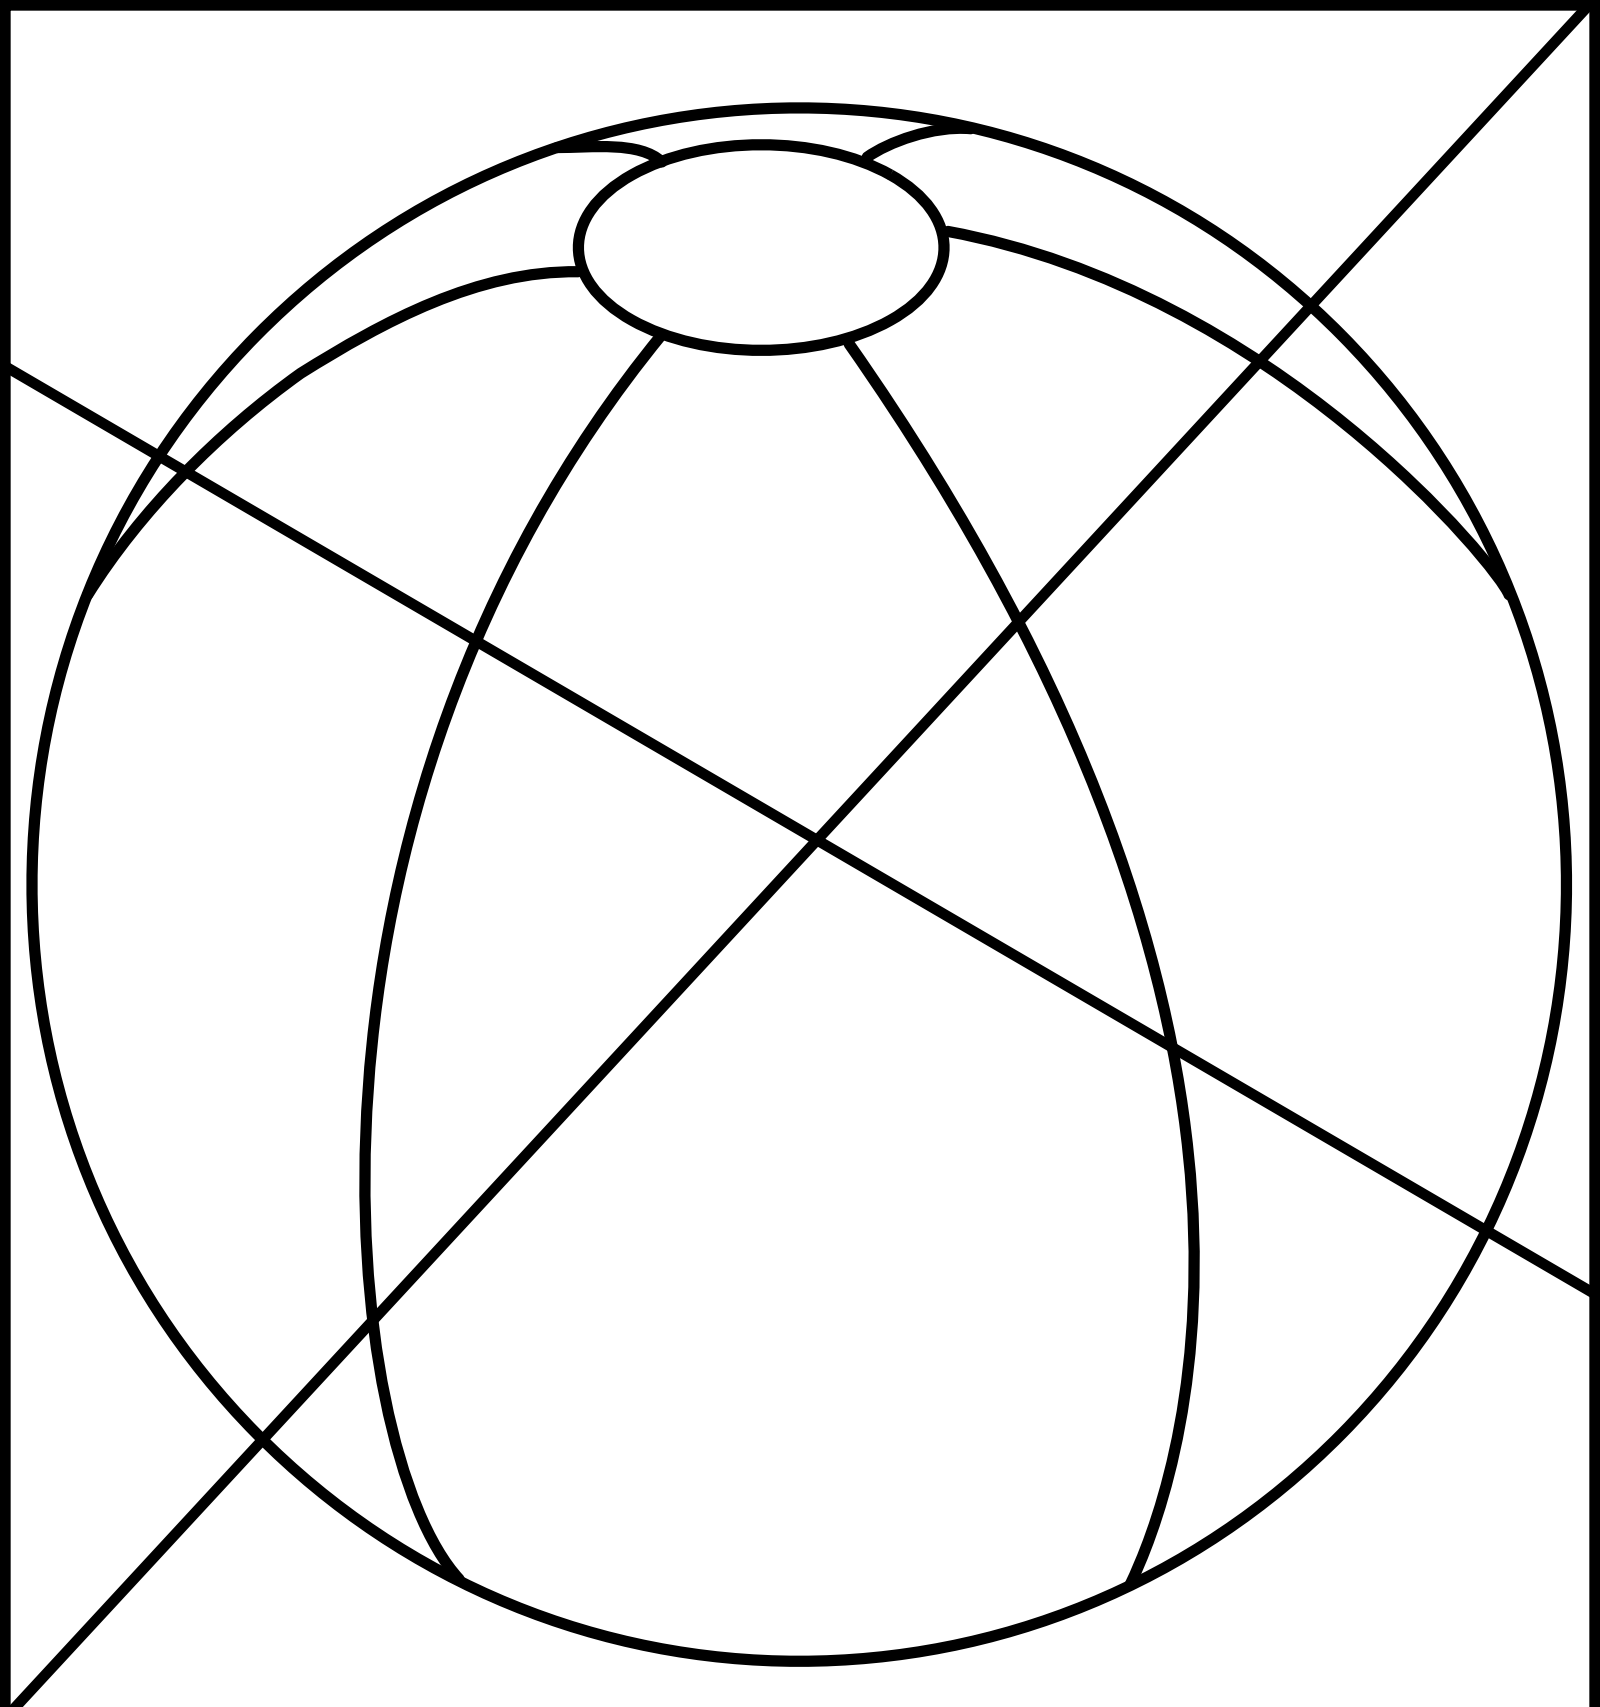

EXAMPLE

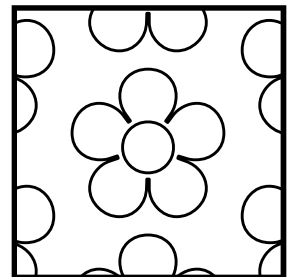

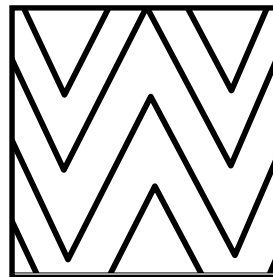

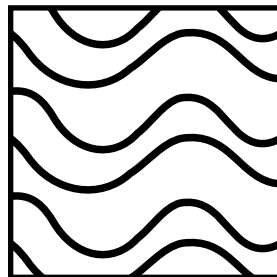

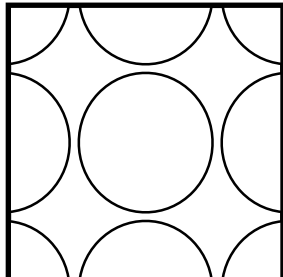

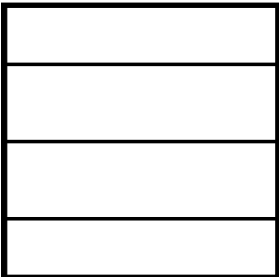

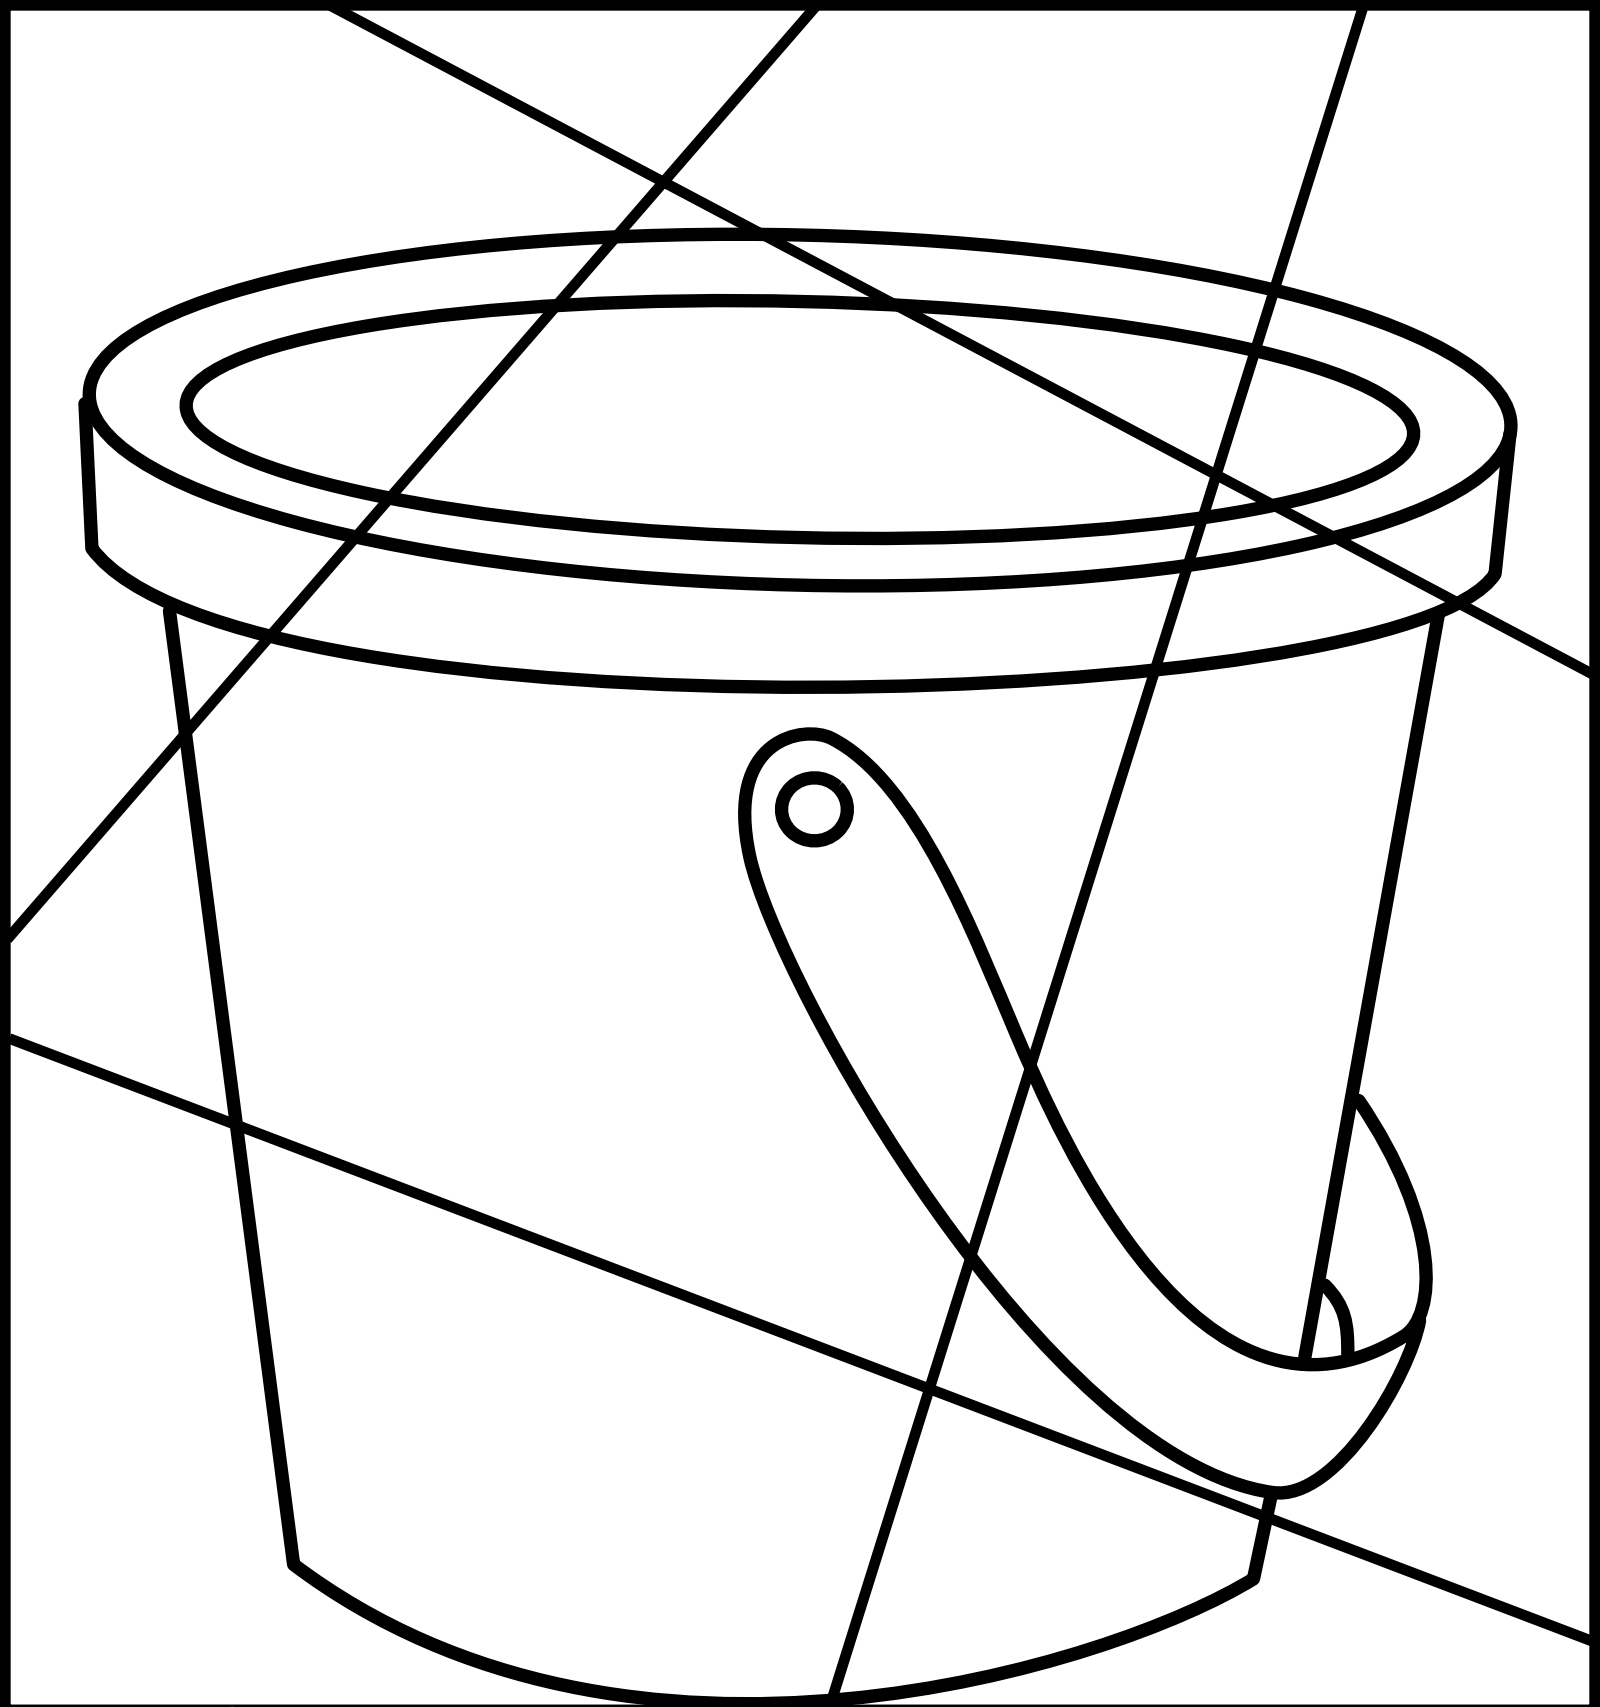

Fill in all the areas broken up by black lines with the patterns below.
Feel free to make up your own patterns. Then color & cut out your final work.
